lear than he to recover the dirty work.

John Donovan, a citizen of Tennessee, illes this bill to restrain John Johnson rom assuming and exercising the funcons of Mayor of the city of Memphis, oder the new charter of the city, and aleges that the said Johnson is inellgible the office by reason of his not being a itizen of the United States and the State to the office by reason of his not being a citizen of the United States and the State of Tennessee. Upon this hill was issued an injunction, according to its prayer.

Johnson files his answer to said hill, and now comes before the Court and asks that the injunction be dissolved. The

The question is, shall the injunction be dissolved and the defendant be permitted to assume and exercise the functions of Mayor of the city of Me.sphis? No question is made as to the jurisdiction of the Chancery Court in exercising its restrainag power in this case. Conceding the urasdiction, shall the power be exercised?

There is no controversy either as to the legality of the election or as to the number of votes polled for Johnson; and it is conceded that he is the regularly elected Mayor of the city, provided he is eligible to the office.
